Washington DC - The U.S. Nuclear Infrastructure Council (USNIC) has been named the American Pavilion sponsor and a co-organizer for the third annual Asia Nuclear Business Platform to be held April 23rd and 24th, 2015 at the Asia World Expo in Hong Kong.

The Asia nuclear platform event is expecting its largest turn-out of U.S. companies since its inaugural meeting in 2013 and will feature more than 20 worldwide exhibitors. The U.S. Department of Commerce has granted Trade Fair Certification to the 2015 meeting.

The Council will also anchor the Platform's global supply chain panel discussion. Other featured speakers include Dr. Zamzam Jaafar, CEO of Malaysia Nuclear Power Corporation and Dr. Hoang Anh Tuan, Director General of Vietnam Atomic Energy Agency. A complete list of speakers can be viewed here (<http://www.nuclearbusiness-platform.com/asia/speakers/>). Platform sponsors include Pillsbury, Milbank, AECOM and NuScale Power.

The principal focus of the Asia Nuclear Business Platform 2015 is on offering a venue where key stakeholders in nuclear energy generation can meet, discover synergies and access technologies, markets, and capital. The meeting is anticipated to draw participation from more than 200 Asian and international stakeholders across the nuclear supply chain: government, regulators, NSSS vendors, construction companies, law firms and financial firms.

Co-organized by USNIC, the event will also feature a U.S. Pavilion on the exhibition floor where companies involved in global nuclear power projects can make use of the event to network with nuclear project developers from the region.
